DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nishihara et al. US 6,403,716.

3. The rejection set forth under 35 USC 103 in the paper mailed 4/6/07 is deemed proper and is herein repeated.

4. The newly amended and added claims in addition to the remarks filed in support thereof have been fully considered.

5. Applicants argue that the polypropylene resin identified as B-1 in Nishihara does not read on the syndiotactic polypropylene claimed. This is not persuasive. The polypropylene component B-1 as generically described in the are includes syndiotactic polypropylene. Moreover, the B-1 is intended to be distinct from the isotactic polypropylene component B-2. Component B-1 is not described as isotactic, as B-2 is, therefore it is reasonably to presume that the disclosure is suggesting a syndiotactic polypropylene. The art in no way teaches that the polypropylene B-1 is "not a syndiotactic polypropylene" as alleged. To the contrary, it teaches that it is distinct from the isotactic polypropylene used as B-2. This leads one to a syndiotactic polypropylene.

6. The amount of crosslinking agent is rendered obvious by the disclosure Nishihara. The manipulation of the amount crosslinking agent and resultant properties are understood by one of ordinary skill in the art.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
